House to House Calls To Collect Money for Youth Center Planned

Teenagers Make $300 During Work Day Sat. Seek $2,000

A house to house canvass in the soliciting of funds for the Antioch Township Youth Center will be staged by high school students starting at 10:30 a. m. Friday.

The entire high school district which includes Lake Villa as well as Antioch township will be included in the drive.

Sixty students, meeting last evening at the American Legion home, reported a fund of $300 as the result of their Work Day last weekend. They are out to raise $2,000.

Persons who are interested in the Youth Center project and who are not contacted in the drive this week-end, are asked to send their contributions to Miss Joanne Quilty, treasurer, Antioch.

Bill Gallagher is chairman of a five-man committee to publicize the campaign.

Seventy of the teenagers were guests of the Old Time Dance club last Saturday evening and reported a "wonderful time." The party was a big success, according to both the young people and adults.

Eighty-Five Citizens Enroll For Courses in Adult Education Plan

Eighty-five citizens of the Antioch community are participating in the Adult Evening School program. Sewing, typing, woodshop, basic English and instrumental music are being offered. The participants have indicated a great deal of interest and enthusiasm in their subjects and have kept the instructors busy with planning and organization.

The homemaking class in sewing started its program Wednesday, Nov. 18 under the instruction of Mrs. Robert Kelton from Gurnee. The twenty class members will meet each Wednesday for 10 weeks from 7 to 9 p. m. Participants are: June Schneider, Jeanette Kriesant, Virginia Steffenburg, Helen Baerman, Dorothy Lang, Marilyn Dowell, Dorothy Shuck, Georgia Jacobson, Florence Miller, Mildred Meskauis, Kate Haak, Rita Edean, Helen Smith, Thelma Keulman, Marylee Schutz, Eleanor Prather, Beatrice Gilbert, Margaret Walsh, Betty Birt, and Genevieve Wilson.

Bailey, Frank R. Ballwanz, Jo Bristol, Doris Caple, Carolyn Chinn, Lois Crawford, Alice M. Cumbee, Antoinette Fields, Stella Franklin, Alice Freeman, Frances D. Gallagher.

Antioch Man Stops Teenage Car Thieves

Three Milwaukee teenagers who ran away from home last Friday and stole a truck from the Consumers Ready Mix Co. southwest of Waukegan, were apprehended by Arthur E. Quaid of the Olson farm, Antioch, Saturday and turned over to the sheriff's office.

Quaid, assisted by J. D. Richardson, Bloomington, curbed the huge truck when its occupants stopped on Mill Creek rd. near Irving rd. and threw off a heavy chain and an acetylene tank. The boys admitted stealing the truck. They were identified as Robert Sands, 13, Melvin Schutte, 15 and Harry Lange, 14. They had a rifle and long blade hunting knives in their possession.

Lange admitted having served a short term in a reform school; Schutte said he had been expelled from school, and Sands said he ran away from home because his parents spanked him.

They were taken to juvenile court and charged with delinquency.

News-Sun Plant Bombed
The Waukegan News-Sun plant where printers have been on strike for nearly a year, was bombed Friday night and windows in the mailing room broken. A reward of $2,000 has been offered for information leading to the arrest of the vandals.

Pantry Will Replace Zehrens Grill With Curtises as Owners

Walter Curtis of Gages Lake has purchased Nicholas Zehrens' Fountain Grill, 914 Main st., and will re-open it Saturday morning under the name of The Pantry. Mrs. Curtis will be in charge.

The Curtises have operated the Gages Lake picnic grounds for the past five years with much success. They have a desire to move to Antioch, however, and the new business provides the opportunity. Curtis said that plate lunches, sandwiches, fountain products and general grill service will be provided.

Zehrens, whose health has been poor, has not announced his future plans. He is residing in Union Grove, Wis.

Thanksgiving Order of Day Tomorrow in Antioch and Nation

Church Service and Home Gatherings Replace Business

Antioch, like the nation, will take time tomorrow to give thanks for its many blessings, for it is Thanksgiving Day.

The past year has seen an end to the shooting in Korea.

For most persons it has been a year of prosperity and plenty; those less fortunate still may be thankful they are not under conditions imposed behind the iron curtain of Soviet Russia.

Those wishing to express their thanks will have opportunity to do so in church services. Union services at the Methodist church at 9 a. m.; mass at St. Peter's Catholic church at 8 a. m.; and an 11 o'clock service at the Church of Christ Scientist may serve this purpose.

Many will observe the day in the company of the immediate family, relatives, or friends, and the usual big Thanksgiving Day dinner will be served.

Many students will be home from college to add to the happiness of the occasion.

Most Antioch business houses will be closed and there will be no mail delivery on the routes. The lobby will be open until 9 a. m.

Schools will be closed for the rest of the week.

Paul Biel to Attend Wabash College Camp

Crawfordsville, Ind., Nov. 25 (Special)—Paul N. Biel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Biel, Rural Rte. 2, Antioch, will attend the third annual Wabash College sophomore study camp at Turkey Run State Park.

Campers will be given time during their two-day stay at the park to study, to engage in hiking and other outdoor activities, and to participate in discussion groups. The discussions are on topics chosen by the students themselves. A faculty member from each division of the college curriculum—science, the humanities, and social studies—will be present at each discussion.

Purposes of the camp are to help the student to get to know his instructors and fellow students better; to get away from the college routine and engage in recreational activities for a brief period; and, through the medium of the discussion groups, to answer some of his questions about Wabash and college life in general.

Suit Brought to Annul Grant High Referendum

Grant High School is having its troubles.

After the district apparently had voted a $995,000 bond issue to provide an addition to the new school, a suit was filed Saturday in county court charging irregularities in the voting at the referendum Oct. 24, and Judge Minard E. Hulse impounded the ballots, pending a recount. The bond issue carried 753 to 729.

The complaint was that the balloting of some voters was blocked because they didn't have their registration cards.

Frank Hartigan, chairman of the citizens committee and a judge at the referendum poll, denied there was any irregularity and said that were all of the spoiled ballots counted, the bond issue would have passed.

Mrs. Elroy Anderson underwent a major operation at St. Theresa hospital Tuesday.

Rte. 83 Considered As Toll Road Route To Bypass Chicago

Continuation of Edens on Rte. 41 Abandoned by Gov. Stratton

Possibility that Rte. 83 through Antioch may be followed as a general course of a toll road that would by-pass Chicago to Indiana was cited as an alternate to the improvement of Skokie Highway by a Chicago newspaper Monday. Plans for conversion of Rte. 41 into an expressway as a continuation of Edens highway are said to be all but abandoned by Gov. William G. Stratton.

Instead, the current talk in Springfield is that a toll route paralleling Skokie four or five miles west might relieve the demand for modernization of the existing four-lane Skokie highway.

Rte. 83 was promoted as a circumferential route about 25 years ago. Stratton's toll road commission at its first meeting with the governor last Friday indicated a preference for going around Chicago rather than through the city. This would leave a problem for Chicago in that it would have the task of moving traffic from the city west to the new highway.

The Edens modernization plan was said to have been stopped last spring after engineers suspended design work on orders of Springfield so as to reduce construction costs $65,000 a mile, an economy move of the governor after he had reduced income from truck taxes about $20 million a year.

The federal government won't stand for this change and said it would withdraw its 50 per cent contribution to the cost of the highway if the plan were changed. Governor Stratton said he believes an agreement can be reached, however.

An improved highway through Antioch has been in the cards for several years, but no local enthusiasm was manifested over a super-highway because of the doubt that enough non-slosh land could be found between Antioch and Lake Villa on the east side of the Soo Line tracks where it was expected the course of the highway would follow.

Masons Will Install New Officers Dec. 5

Invitations have been issued for a public installation of officers of Sequoia Lodge, No. 827, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons to take place Saturday evening, Dec. 5 in Wesley hall of the Methodist church.

Guy Simmons, past district deputy grand master, will serve as master in the installing ceremony; Charles Watson, past district deputy grand master, will serve as chaplain; Richard Chapman, Sr., past district deputy grand master, will act as marshal; and Oather Polsgrove will be secretary.

Bernard G. Guillaume will be installed as worshipful master.

Guillaume has announced that a special musical program will be featured through arrangement with Fred B. Swanson, long active in Masonic circles. Mr. Swanson will present what is described as a "musical gem" after the installation. Artists who will entertain will include a string ensemble featuring David Chasaw as solo violinist. Two vocalists, Miss June Brown and Allen Keller, both of radio fame, will present numbers. A reputation for presenting fine entertainment of this sort is well-deserved by Mr. Swanson, and it is certain that the musical part of the program will be a real attraction.

Other elected and appointed officers to be installed are: Edward Schippmann, senior warden; Robert Plincombe, junior warden; Edmond R. Strang, treasurer; John Gas, secretary; Don Sargol, senior deacon; James Brusk, junior deacon; Clarence Larson, senior steward; and Richard, Chapman, Jr., junior steward; L. R. Van Patter, Jr., marshal; Wayne R. Polsgrove, chaplain; Milton R. Park, Tyler; and Charles Mapleshorpe, organist.

A "preview dinner" will be held on Saturday night, Nov. 28, at 6:30 p. m. at the Masonic Temple. The new master will introduce his new line for the year. A preview for the year will be explained to the lodge members. The wire recording of the previous past masters night and the evening with ex-senior Brooks night will be heard. All Masons are invited to attend and especially past masters and lodge members of the local lodge.

Holtz Announces Plan Of State and County Tavern Owners Groups

R. G. (Bud) Holtz, Antioch, president of the Tavern Owners Association of Lake County, announced that the annual Christmas party of the association, will be held at the Johns-Manville Club, Greenwood ave., Waukegan, at 8 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 10.

Announcement of the party was made recently at a meeting of the association at Holmes' resort, Indian Point, Grass lake.

Holtz, who was elected executive vice president of the Illinois Licensed Beverage Association at its convention in Springfield last month, reported that he has been appointed to a committee of the state group to meet with a committee appointed by Gov. William G. Stratton to discuss legislative problems of the tavern industry.

The Antioch tavern owner said the Dr. Drem Shop Act, and the tremendous cost of insurance occasioned by this act will cause the association to seek a more favorable law during the next session of the legislature. At the same time the ILBA will continue its plan to organize its own insurance company to handle the dram shop insurance.

"We hope to set up the company within six months," Holtz said, "and eventually expand it to take over fire, theft, liability and other tavern insurance needs."

The association has voted a $25 contribution to each of the volunteer rescue and ambulance squads in Lake County with the Antioch Rescue squad becoming one of the beneficiaries.

"These groups render a tremendous service to the people of Lake county, and this can be our way of showing appreciation for their efforts," Holtz said.

Fr. Flaherty to Become Domestic Prelate With Title of Rt. Monsignor

The Rev. Francis M. Flaherty who served St. Peter's parish in Antioch for 20 years, has been given the papal honor of domestic prelate with the title of Rt. Rev. Monsignor on order of Pope Pius XII.

Honors for 66 priests were recently announced by His Eminence Samuel Cardinal Stritch for the archdiocese of Chicago following his return from Rome where he participated in the dedication of the North American college.

Fr. Flaherty who two years ago was transferred from the Antioch church to St. Peter Canisius at 1567 North ave. in Chicago, will be invested with his new title at 3 p. m. Sunday in his church. There will be a reception at 7 p. m. that evening to which all of his friends are invited. Several from Antioch are planning to attend.

Receiving the same papal recognition is Fr. Joseph A. Garrity, pastor of St. Anastasia church in Waukegan.

Antioch High Tramples Libertyville 63-21; Play Spartans Tonight

The Antioch Sequoits performed like champions in their first basketball game of the season last Friday, defeating the Libertyville Wildcats by the overwhelming score of 63 to 21.

It was sweet revenge for the defeat handed Antioch by Libertyville last year at the outset of the season.

With this dashing start, the Sequoits Conference Champs, will enter conference play tonight against Glenbrook (formerly Northbrook) which for lack of a completed gymnasium had to transfer the game to Antioch from that school. The Spartans are the dark-horse this year, and may give Antioch a good battle.

On Saturday evening of this week, Antioch will play its second game of the year with a North Suburban Conference team. The Sequoits will play Lake Forest here.

Libertyville proved a surprisingly weak opponent last Friday. The visitors only scored four field goals the entire game.

Haviland Scores 26 Points
Mike Haviland, speedy Antioch forward, accounted for 10 field goals and three fouls for a total of 26 points, and as high point man made more points than the entire Libertyville team.

Antioch players made 25 of their 57 field shots, or 44 per cent of their attempts.

Coach Dick Scott sent in many substitutes during the latter part of the game. There is a difference between the last year and the one last year. The 1952-53 team was satisfied merely to keep ahead of its opponents; the 1953-54 team is out to run up the score as high as it can, regardless of the situation.

Firemen Called to Lake Marie
Antioch firemen were called to the Frank Klue Shady Nook residence at Lake Marie last Friday morning when a space heater got out of control. Very little damage was done.

Chief Edgar Simonsen said that past fires at Deep Lake rd. near Rte. 173 and near Rte. 173 opposite Smart's Country House are continuing to burn but that another good rain should extinguish them. The last one reduced them considerably.

Children Reminded Santa Will Arrive At 11 A.M. Saturday

Village Taking on Yuletide Appearance in Stores, On Streets

Whether Santa Claus will arrive Saturday by airplane, auto, helicopter or sleigh will not be known until it is learned what kind of weather is forecast for that date, but he expects to be on time, arriving at 11 a. m. at the intersection of Rtes 173 and 21.

This hour was confirmed today despite conflicting reports last week, and merchants who were unofficially instructed to have their floats ready by 1:30 will have to speed up their work to have them ready for the parade at 11 a. m.

There was indication today that Santa would have a pretty good treat for the boys and girls when he arrives at his destination at the Antioch Rescue Squad building at the forenoon hour. Last year he didn't have time to interview all of the children as to their wants for Christmas, so this year he is coming earlier.

He will be at the squad home from 11 a. m. until 7 p. m., giving out treats before a big Christmas tree.

The business section began to take on a Christmas appearance this week when the first of the decorations went up. By Saturday all of the street decorations will be in place and most of the business houses will have completed decorating their windows.

Antioch merchants are getting in a good supply of Christmas goods and many persons have already started in on their Christmas shopping.

Antioch Vets Attend VFW County Council, And District Meets

Delegates from the Antioch post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, to the Lake County Council of VFW's met at Libertyville last Thursday, saw members of the council get important offices in the state and district.

Earlier in the month, Tony Sciacero, county council vice commander, was instructed to bring Frank Lamson of North Chicago to an administration meeting of the state officers, and he was examined and certified as representative of the state V. F. W. to the Veterans Administration hospital at Downey.

It was announced at the meeting that Clement Small of Libertyville had been appointed chief of staff in the fifth district.

Past Dist. Cmdr. Don Stephens administered the obligation to three trustees of the council who were elected at the previous meeting. They are Early Bury of North Chicago, Richard Orcutt of Libertyville, and Bruno Amides of Highland. Frank Lamson was also installed as council service officer. A resolution was presented by the North Chicago post and passed by the council recommending that the Congress of the United States designate one national holiday as Armistice Day each year so as to consolidate efforts to pay homage to all men who served in the eight major conflicts of the United States of America.

Adolph Schmidt, Waukegan, reported on the award of the citation by the County Council to Harry Quandt, county radio dispatcher, for his untiring efforts in obtaining for a centrally located radio station in the county for the dispatching of emergency police, fire, civilian defense, and other emergency calls which has, and will continue to save lives and reduce crime in the county.

Delegates from Antioch who were present at the meeting were Cmdr. Virgil Burnette, Sr. Vice Cmdr. Carl Eakew, Trustee J. L. Armstrong, who is also county council adjutant, and Tony Sciacero, county junior vice commander, and district quartermaster.

Those who attended the district meeting at West Chicago were Burnette, Eakew, Sciacero, and Warren Edwards.

The Problem of Chronic Illness

One of the most difficult of medical problems lies in the financial strain imposed on families when a member is afflicted with long-term chronic illness. It is estimated that some 4,000,000 Americans suffer from this kind of illness.

Luckily, very intensive work is being given to find solutions. In 1949 the American Medical Association and other groups founded a commission for the express purpose of making a detailed study of the whole problem. And the AMA has joined with the American Hospital Association, the American Public Health Association, the U. S. Public Health Service, and the American Public Welfare Association in sponsoring a major conference on the subject, to be held in Chicago next March. The conference will be divided into five major categories covering the chronically ill—the patient at home, the patient in an institution, integration of facilities, research needed, and methods of financing.

We would be foolish indeed to believe that so complex a problem can be solved in a hurry. We would be equally foolish to believe it is incapable of sound solution. The improvement that has taken place in many fields and phases of medical care in a relatively short time is nothing short of amazing. An outstanding example here is the growth of the various voluntary prepayment plans which now provide tens of millions of people with protection against the economic effects of short-term illness.

American medicine, in company with other agencies, is vigorously working on every medical problem not yet solved, and is confident of ultimate success.

Who Pays?

A good many people still seem to believe that the cost of government isn't too important a matter, for all we have to do is soak the corporations and the well-to-do individuals and let them do most of the paying.

It's an attractive theory—and it's also as full of holes as a colander. The facts refute it 100 per cent. For instance, the Waseca, Minnesota, Journal, recently said, "Confiscate, if you will, all of the profits of the corporations after taxes, and you could run the U. S. Government just 71 days."

Various authoritative surveys have shown that if the incomes of all wealthy people were confiscated, the money gained would run the government for a similarly brief period of time.

Who, then, does support our unbelievably costly government? Another Minnesota paper, the Le Sueur-News-Herald, answered that question in these simple and accurate words: "It isn't hard to figure out who pays the bulk of the taxes—it's you and I and the rest of the little people. . ."

Those Fixed Costs

There has been much discussion of the fact that the cost at wholesale of many of the things we eat and wear and use is often a great deal less than the price we must pay in the retail store. And that tends to create an impression that retailers are a bunch of bandits who are making extortionate profits at the expense of the hapless housewife.

What this attitude fails to take into consideration is that, in late years, the fixed costs of carrying on a retail business have tremendously increased. Those costs include labor, taxes, rents, transportation, and everything else. And there is still another factor, which is found in changed consumer preference. As an example, people now want processed foods where they used to buy the raw product. They want goods in a wide range of packagings and sizes and varieties. And all this costs money. The retailer, like the producer and manufacturer, has no choice save to pass the cost on to the buyer.

The real test of whether or not retailing is exploiting us is found in its net profit—the money typical stores have left at the end of the year after all the bills are paid. Major food chains earn a net of as little as one per cent. Other types of stores customarily earn three or four or five cents on the dollar of sales. As anyone can see, if the profit were eliminated entirely, there would be small change in the retail cost of merchandise.

"Build a machine gun and what happens? It either rusts in a warehouse or blows up on a battlefield. Build a washing machine and this happens: it takes the drudgery out of some woman's life."—Secretary of Commerce Weeks.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

What is "swoosh"—that is the item for clarification as we open the seminar. First off, I put in my oar and comment that this is the era of same—swoosh is speed, accented—and it is the cause of our high blood pressure, our lack of courtesy, our lack of direction, our suckerishness, our yokelishness.

We put a heavy foot on the gas—we grab a sandwich, get a twitch in our stomach—gulp an aspirin—take a short and fast peek at the headlines—take off. That is swoosh. Following such method of living and you develop into a simple sucker sure as the sun comes up in yon east. Also and likewise the off-shoots of the speed clan, who have been farmed out to the sitter, grow up without a direction compass.

Folks who figure they may miss a drink if they don't hurry are duck soup for the crafty gents who organize such foolishnesses as a phony farmers' march on Washington to protest something. We are over-run, infested with glib artists who eat plentiful at our expense and will continue to do so unless we haul out our arithmetic and check for sure if 2 and 2 is or is not 4. A return of the time when there are 100 people and only 99 jobs might be the McCoy to clear up our confused notions.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

Salem Center nipped the Wilmot five 49-47 in a basketball game

Tuesday evening at Central, before a throng of 800 people. The two quintets traded point for point throughout most of the game. Coach Bob Hanke's Wilmot five took a 11-10 edge in the first period, but surrendered the lead seconds before the half ended when Jim Grimmer's bucket gave Central a 25-24 edge. In the third quarter Central led 33-25, but Wilmot bounced back and took command 40-38 before the period ended. The lead changed hands at least six times in the final eight minutes. Warren Reck dropped in a one-hander to give his Central mates a 48-47 edge. Jim Cowen's free toss made it 49-47. The Panthers B squad routed Central 47-16. Ed Skora dropped in 15 points and Richard Frank accounted for 14 for the winners. Standouts for Wilmot A team were Donald Swartz with 16 tallies and John McDonough and Bob Brehm with 10 each. Gary McDonald and Bob Huff chimed in with excellent floor games. The two rivals will meet again at Wilmot in February.

Speaker Says Teaching Communism-Socialism To Minors Dangerous

There should be academic freedom, but if a teacher teaches socialism and communism as a form of study, he should let it be known what he is teaching and it should be done when the student has a mature mind and can look at it through a realistic telescope.

That was the advice of H. T. Everingham, editor and publisher of Fact Finder, who addressed the Township Republican Women's club and guests at the American Legion home in Libertyville recently.

Late commuter trains delayed the meeting a half hour, but the meeting gained momentum after the speech, and the question and answer period lasted during the serving of refreshments.

Mr. Everingham urged that the people keep their American way of life so that socialism and communist cannot get a strangle hold that will put their children back in a feudal state and serfdom. He maintained that there is no "middle road" to follow and it is the people's duty to defend this way of life by educating the people in basic economics and by expanding a strong spiritual background.

"Communism is an extreme form of socialism and any form of Collectivism by the government is a form of socialism," said Mr. Everingham.

As to the economic system, Everingham's comparison of the various governing systems was made more dramatic as he sketched the end results of each. He pointed out that "Our people make our government and our government should serve as a referee to business and not get into the game. We need our democracy and freedom of competition to control our economy."

In answer to a question, a most concise explanation to the necessity of the Bricker amendment was given when Mr. Everingham explained that the danger through treaties is that they take precedence over all laws of our land including the constitution and he concluded that treaties will take us into world government. There were as many men as women in the audience and a few of the guests who were introduced included Senator R. McClory of Lake Bluff, Judge M. E. Hulse, Waukegan, Representative from the district, A. B. McConnell of Woodstock and Mrs. Lawrence Beckmann who is president of the Freedom Club in Wilmette.

MARY A. MCAULEY, left, and ALICE J. TWOHIG, below, have retired on pensions after each had spent more than half a century in the telephone business.

Miss McAuley started as a telephone operator in the days when salaries were $10 a month. She has completed 51 years and 2 months of service—one of the longest periods of service of any woman in the Bell System—and says, "I loved every minute of it."

Miss Twohig remembers when operators' telephone headsets weighed 6½ pounds. (Today they weigh less than 6 ounces.) She left Illinois Bell recently after 50 years and has been very active since in the Telephone Pioneers of America, an organization of over 170,000 Bell System men and women with more than 21 years of service.

101 years of telephone service—

We'd just like to say "well done" to these two veterans of the switchboard. It's good to see that even after half a century the voice has never lost its smile.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

The letters S T O P appearing on a sign at a traffic intersection mean "stop," not just hesitate or see if you can beat the other fellow across the intersection. (Section 86c, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic.)

This may seem like an extremely elementary thing to mention in this series of Tips on Traffic Safety, but all too frequently the drivers of automobiles on through highways have their lives needlessly endangered by other drivers who fail to make the required stop.

All traffic regulation signs and signals are for your protection. When you are driving along a through traffic artery, you expect and depend upon cross traffic to grant you the right of way. It is only reasonable that you grant the right of way when you are driving along the secondary road.

Be especially careful at intersections where traffic is normally light. Don't let yourself become so familiar with an intersection that you come to expect there will be no other traffic there. Those are the conditions where the unexpected usually happens.

Lincoln Observed Thanksgiving Day Ninety Years Ago

Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 25—The first annual national Thanksgiving Day, observed ninety years ago today, was established by Abraham Lincoln according to Dr. Louis A. Warren, historian of the Lincoln National Life Insurance company.

In 1863, according to Dr. Warren, Abraham Lincoln issued a Presidential proclamation setting aside the last Thursday of November as a day of thanksgiving. This day was designated because it is the last feast day prior to the observance of Advent by the churches of America. Abraham Lincoln repeated his act in 1864. Every year since then, the President of the United States has issued a proclamation establishing Thanksgiving Day in November. Prior to 1863, only two such Presidential proclamations had been issued—one by George Washington in 1789 and the other by James Madison in 1815.

It is interesting to note that in 1789, 1863, and again this Thanksgiving Day, the last Thursday of November was the 26th of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simmons of Eagle River, Wis., Mrs. Florence Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Simmons, Skokie, were guests at the Curtis Wells home Monday and attended the funeral services for Mortimer Savage.

Parents of Son

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Behling of Channel Lake are the parents of a baby son, born Nov. 19, at Condell Memorial hospital, Libertyville. Mr. Behling is principal of Channel Lake school.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Nielsen of Nielsen's Corners and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Nielsen, Jr., will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Barthel for Thanksgiving dinner.

Robert Wilton Heads Mail Campaign for Salvation Army Fund

Announcement was made today that the Salvation Army, Service Unit committee, of which Robert Wilton is chairman, and William E. Brook is treasurer, will conduct its annual campaign for funds for local and regional welfare needs. Special letters will be mailed to local citizens requesting contributions to be mailed to the treasurer, Mr. Brook.

There is only one campaign by mail during the year. In June of each year the annual Doughnut Tag Day is held, and then, as frequently as possible the Army makes available to interested friends, the weekly publication known as the War Cry.

Last year the citizens of this community responded generously, and the committee, as well as the officials of the Salvation Army express appreciation for placing this humanitarian organization in a position to render year-round service to people irrespective of creed or color.

A portion of the money is used by the local committee for a program of health, welfare, and cultural activities. The local committee will render services at the point of need to the limit of their funds. Such needs may include clothing for school children, dental, optical and medical assistance, and family welfare needs of all kinds.

The remainder of the amount raised will be used to provide maintenance of a maternity hospital for un-married mothers, summer camp benefits for mothers and children, rehabilitation work for men, veterans hospital work, and other facilities, including a reserve fund for emergencies and disasters. The regional program is available to Antioch whenever need arises.

Chairman Wilton and committee were wholehearted in their cooperation with the Salvation Army and its program of traditional services, expressing appreciation for this extension of the army program into the local community. Lt. Col. Dallas P. Leader, divisional commander for the metropolitan area, expressed his deep appreciation to the local committee for their expression of confidence and good will.

Club Warns Motorists Of Holiday Accidents

Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 26, the first major holiday of the winter season, brings a serious warning to motorists from the Chicago Motor Club.

According to a forecast by the club, unless extremely bad weather stops traffic, Illinois may experience 15 fatalities during the Thanksgiving Day travel period. In forecasting heavy holiday traffic Charles M. Hayes, club president, pointed out that excessive speeds during the 1952 Thanksgiving holiday caused 491 injuries.

In planning holiday visits, Hayes cautioned motorists to:

1. Avoid long travel distances.
2. Leave early.
3. Don't over-indulge, thus becoming tired and less alert at the wheel.
4. Curb speed.

Those who plan an extended week end trip should watch weather forecasts, Hayes said. This time of year brings sudden changes in weather conditions and often leaves motorists stranded. Avoid slick roads, heavy traffic, and night driving if possible.

"Thanksgiving Day," concluded Hayes, "is set aside to count our blessings, not our traffic toll."

SHORT STORY

An Old Tune

By Norman Disher

I OWN a little record shop over on East Lake Avenue called "Gene's Discery". It's a nice business for a man of middle age and I enjoy the people that come in. Don Watson for instance, a nice clean kid around nineteen just comes in to listen sometimes. He's young but he has a lot on the ball. I sort of worry about him sometimes because he always seems to have troubles of one sort or another.

Right now it's girl troubles, last month it was car troubles. He tells me his trouble is not girls themselves but the right kind of girl. He says he can't find the kind of girl who is interested in the same things he is.

On Saturday Don usually shows up in the afternoon to look through Saturday he arrived on schedule and asked me the usual question.

"The new stock that arrives on Friday. So today being Saturday he arrived on schedule and asked me the usual question."

"Anything new, Gene?"

"Lots," I have to answer in self defense, "just look in the racks." He's fond of contemporary jazz but he likes a lot of old pop tunes and he collects the originals.

He's been after me ever since I've known him to try and locate an original copy of a Bunny Dawson rendition of "I Can't Get Anywhere With You." It's an old favorite and hard to find. So his next question is usually, "Any luck?"

And my answer, "I haven't heard anything yet, Don."

It's sort of a ritual and after he's satisfied that I'm still trying he wanders over to the new file and thumbs through the labels.

"I see you have some new Tenor Sax work by Stan Webster. He's good, I like him."

Don plays sax in a small combo, pretty good they tell me.

"Say Gene, look at this—I didn't know it was even out yet—this disc by Benny's new sextet—look."

"Just a minute Don, someone is coming in the doorway." It was a pleasant looking young lady. She walked up to me briskly and with a graceful, confident stride.

"May I help you," I asked.

"Yes, I'm looking for an old tune I heard played on a radio program the other night. It's called 'I Can't Get Anywhere With You' and it's by a man that plays a wonderful trumpet."

I looked at her neat features and soft blue eyes. She seemed intelligent and pleasing; a very nice young lady I decided.

"Well, I'm not sure, but if you'll ask my assistant over there he'll be glad to help you. He's more up-to-date on these things than I am."

"Don," I called.

"Yes," he said looking irritated at being interrupted—until he saw the girl.

"Would you help this customer please—I think you'll know what she is looking for."

"Me? Oh! Sure, sure," he replied looking confused.

The girl walked over to him and told him what she wanted. His eyes lit up brightly.

"We don't have any original presses but there are some reissues on the back shelf if you would care to hear them. Would you?"

"Very much," she replied.

They walked to the back of the shop where Don selected a record from the shelf and then showed her into the listening booth. He put the record on and the strain of the old favorite came through the outside speaker. They listened for awhile and then I could see through the glass door that they were talking very seriously, probably about music. The record stopped playing but they kept on talking until Don finally discovered the record was still going around.

They came out of the booth laughing, the girl walked up to the counter and paid for the record. Don looked over at me and said, "This girl really knows her music, Gene. We've decided to go down the block to Wally's Fountain and really get acquainted."

She looked at him and smiled in a friendly way as they turned and walked up the aisle and from the way Don was smiling back when they went out the front door, I knew his girl troubles were all over for this month anyway.

BE PREPARED FOR FIRE AT NIGHT

Would you know what to do if you woke up at night, smelled smoke, discovered the house on fire? Could you save your household and yourself if you found the hall and stairway ablaze and impassable? If you were prepared, the chances are you could. Here is what to do: Plan and provide a means of escape for every sleeping member of the household. If you cannot easily climb from your bedroom window to the ground, have available in the room a rope ladder that is long enough to reach the ground and decide where to fasten the rope if it is needed. To get everyone out of the house safely, have available in a place like your garage an extension ladder that is long enough to reach other bedroom windows. Be sure it is in good condition. With this ladder you can reach the children or old folks, get them down the ladder. If possible have someone call the fire department while you are getting everyone out of the house.

Make yourself a pincushion and stuff it with fine steel wool. The steel wool will keep your needles and pins clean and sharp.

Timely Tips

An old tooth brush makes a wonderfully handy tool for cleaning jewelry, combs or other hard-to-get-at places. Put a little household ammonia in soap suds, and you can whisk them clean in no time.

When things are too wet to iron, hang them up and let an electric fan blow on them. They'll be ready for ironing a lot sooner, and have a pleasant freshness about them.

Garden tools will winter well if they are scrubbed clean and all metal surfaces coated with oil before they are put away.

Try office desk blotters on your shelves under glassware and china. They're colorful, and will absorb any moisture that may collect.

That nasty onion odor can be completely obliterated from your hands. Just wash them in vinegar.

To keep floors from being marred when moving furniture, slip old, heavy woolen socks over the legs.

A folded damp cloth placed under a mixing bowl will keep it from slipping while you are mixing.

When starch sticks and burns on the bottom of your iron, don't use an abrasive to clean it. Sprinkle a little baking soda on a damp cloth and rub the iron until clean. The soda won't scratch the ironing surface.

SHORT STORY

Never Too Old

By Henry Suter

EVERY day as long as the town's folk could remember, "little" Miss Hatherway, as she was called by her friends, had always gone to pick up her mail at exactly 9 o'clock, which usually consisted of a magazine and possibly a bill or two.

As the minutes passed, Bill Benton, the town's only policeman, became more and more anxious as to the reason she was late. He had become so interested in the place and was growing quite fond of the pert, little Miss Hatherway.

Everyone knew her by her light, sprightly step, the somewhat haughty glances with which she appraised the weather, the orderliness of the town, and other lady's hats. At 65 she ridiculed women who were sensitive about revealing such personal data, she was bright and gay about it all, and had even showed her birth certificate to prove it to those who seemed skeptical about her age of which she was proud.

As for Bill Benton, he would say he had never seen Miss Hatherway wearing a dismal expression; rather, it was one of detached amusement at what went on about her.

This morning she hesitated. Bill Benton hurried to her side, grasped her elbow, and led her across the street.

Now this day happened to be her birthday, but the long hand of the rustic town clock was nearly upon the half past nine, when Miss Hatherway stepped gingerly over puddles on the worn sidewalk, heading for the postoffice. As she approached the policeman, she glanced up at him and smiled.

Everyone knew that he and Miss Hatherway were the best of friends. The first time that he had tried to escort her across the street, however, she had resented it. Bill Benton merely smiled, an amiable smile that showed even white teeth, and he exclaimed, "Yes'm," but still held on to her arm. She had conceded.

On this particular morning, Miss Hatherway stepped from the curb and hesitated. Never before had she done this, but kept at a steady pace, as much as saying to the motorists, Miss Hatherway was crossing, and cross she would.

But this morning she hesitated. Bill Benton hurried to her side, grasped her elbow, and led her across the street.

"You're a little late, Hathy. How come?" asked Bill, grinning.

"H'm. Didn't think you'd even notice," she answered pertly, and drew away.

But Bill sensed that it was without her usual gaiety. She turned her head; she couldn't help feeling just a little blue. The weather was as crisp, the sun as bright and warm, but there was something else on her mind.

One was never too young or too old to receive a birthday card, but last year she received not one. Why, when she was in high school, she received more than a dozen cards from her friends, and, perhaps, because of this, she was aware, yes, intensely aware, of her years.

Miss Hatherway pushed such thoughts from her mind and went on toward the postoffice, a little grimly, for she was still wondering about her present birthday, and questioned whether there might be any remembrances this day.

She entered, and the clerk mumbled greetings and handed her an envelope the size of a card—a birthday card! Her slender fingers trembled and she had some difficulty opening it.

Bill Benton, his wife, Margo, and Tom, Jr., had sent her a card! Little Miss Hatherway smiled and years faded from her face. She walked to the door, opened it with a mighty shove, powerful for such a fragile lady, and went forth into the morning sunshine. She did glare at the atrocity that a Mrs. Brown dared call a hat, stepped primly from the curb to cross the street.

She saw Bill Benton still at his duties there, waved the tiny envelope, and gave him a beaming smile of thanks. He smiled as he saluted her in turn. Both kept smiling for the rest of that day.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

A heartening development has occurred in Washington. As a result, there is greater optimism over free enterprise future.

This conclusion follows announcement four major airlines will carry mail over certain routes at reduced rates on year's experimental basis.

The background is interesting. For some time, a feeling existed American air transportation is too closely controlled by bureaucratic edict; that Post Office losses which started ballyhoo for rate increases is tied into same picture.

First the Senate Small Business Committee held extensive hearings on situation. Then pertinent parts of testimony were published over nation, chiefly in independent weekly newspapers.

Hearings revealed that instead of seeking bids on open market for air service, both rates and subsidies the Post Office must pay were set down by edict of Civil Aeronautics Board.

Public reaction to this disclosure was so quick that almost immediately it was announced that some $80-million in air mail subsidies was being taken out of the Post Office liabilities to be paid by CAB who must get money from Congress if it can.

It also revealed that CAB fixed rate for carrying mail for 45 to 53 cents per ton mile is equal or higher than the airlines receive for first class passengers. Independent airlines, or those classed by CAB as irregular, offer to carry mail for 15¢ rate.

© National Federation of Independent Business

Immediately on heels of this disclosure, it was announced four major airlines will carry all first class mail they have room for between Washington and New York and Chicago for a rate of 18.88 and 20.04 cents per ton mile.

As yet, the independents, or irregulars, cannot carry mail. In fact, CAB has never permitted them a hearing on matter.

Railroads who receive rate estimated slightly above 16 cents per ton mile are concerned. Competition could lower rail rates, too.

Thus it is possible that if free competition is made to prevail, Post Office deficit will turn out nothing more than wasteful operation forced on a major veteran government department by "Johnny-come-lately" bureaus.

The rapid sequence of events establishes that an energetic and sincere Senate Small Business Committee, and House Small Business Committee can get the facts revealed, and disclosure of these facts in the independent American press composed almost entirely of the nation's weekly and small dailies, will do much to guard free enterprise.

An interesting "hands across the sea" in U. S. pockets! note. England, recipient of millions in aid from US taxpayers will this spring launch a new yacht for royal family. A 413 foot, 21 knot speed luxury ocean going ship, it will be manned by 22 officers and 225 men.

Last January the U. S. President whose taxpayers still pay huge taxes to pay for aid to England, ordered the presidential yacht, the much smaller Willamette, taken out of commission as economy move.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

One of the most frequently recurring types of motor vehicle accidents is the rear end collision. In Illinois last year, 37 per cent of the accidents—more than a third—were that type. Some of them were serious ones.

There are definite precautions you, as a driver, can take to avoid ramming the car ahead of you or being rammed by the one behind you. Whenever you see traffic conditions ahead of you which are going to require you to slow down or stop, tell the driver behind you by giving the proper arm signal—and do it immediately. The more warning you can give him, the less chance there is he will crash into you. Also, check your rear vision mirror so you will know what is happening behind you.

To avoid ramming into the car ahead of you, watch for signals from the drivers ahead. But don't depend on them entirely. Try to watch traffic movements as far ahead as you can. You may detect a dangerous situation developing before the driver immediately in front of you sees it, and you will be better prepared to avoid a crash than he will.

Now Is the Time to Kill Rats, Mice

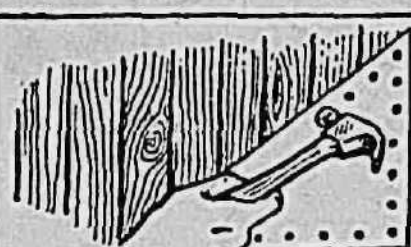

Rats and mice move indoors when the mercury drops, so be prepared for the annual invasion. Pest control specialists say that an effective anti-rat and mouse campaign includes these three steps: 1—For good sanitation, remove all rubbish piles and stack lumber and firewood neatly on racks at least one foot above ground level. 2—Buildings in which grain and feed are stored should be rat-proofed, if possible. Informative bulletins on ratproofing may be obtained from your county agricultural agent.

Third and most effective measure in the autumn anti-rat campaign is baiting. Outstanding among the available rat and mouse killers is warfarin, a potent chemical discovered in the laboratories of Dr. Karl Paul Link, Biochemistry Dept., University of Wisconsin, by Drs. Mark A. Stahmann, Miyoshi Ikawa, and Link. Many communities are now achieving a "rat-free" status by using warfarin bait in local campaigns.

Ratproof Buildings

This particular bait kills all species of rats and mice common to the United States; it is a slow killer and does not create bait shyness; no pre-baiting is required; no tolerance develops; it is easy to use; it may be used in any climate or season at any temperature; it is comparatively safe to use; and it may be purchased as a concentrate or a ready-mixed bait.

Place Rat Bait

In using warfarin bait, it must be made available to the rats and mice at all times. Bait stations—shallow containers protected with a board or a wooden box—are usually examined every 48 hours. A limited number of permanent bait stations will kill newcomers and control reinvansion.

Softened Sugar

If brown sugar has lost its moistness and become a mass of several hard lumps, place in the double boiler to steam until it softens enough to use.

Fast Camel

The white Bishareen camel is the most valuable of the tribe, being very fast and capable of outrunning a horse. They make excellent mounts.
